

CONTENTS

List of figures	xi
List of tables	xii
List of case studies	xiii
Foreword	xiv
Preface	xvi
About the author	xviii
List of abbreviations	xix

PART A Context of management accounting in public services

CHAPTER 1 Public service organisations and the public sector 3

Introduction	3
What are public services?	4
What are the distinctive features of public services?	12
Challenges facing public services	14
Aims and structure of this book	17

CHAPTER 2 Operations management of public services 19

Introduction	19
Aspects of public service operations	20
Operations management activities in public services	21
Relevance of management accounting	27

CHAPTER 3 The importance of strategy in public services 29

Introduction	29
The nature of strategic management	29
Strategic change in public services	31
The strategic management process in public services	34
Management accounting and strategic decision making	47

CHAPTER 4 Public service reforms 49

Introduction	49
Why does public service reform take place?	49
What are the objectives of public service reform?	50
What constitutes public service reform?	52

- Success and failure in public service reform 56
- Lessons and causes of past reforms 59
- The role of management accounting in public service reform 60

CHAPTER 5 Leadership, management and decision making in public services 61

- Introduction 61
- Leadership and management in public services: distinctive features 61
- Decision making in public services 65
- Management accounting and decision making in public services 74

CHAPTER 6 The relevance of management accounting in public services 77

- Introduction 77
- The nature and purpose of management accounting 77
- The modern roles of management accounting in relation to public services 81
- Behavioural aspects of management accounting 83
- Financial analysis and economic analysis in public services: the distinction 85
- The management accountant in public services 85
- Factors that drive the configuration of management accounting in public service organisations 88

PART B Management accounting practice in public services

CHAPTER 7 Costing and cost information for decision making in public services 93

- Introduction 93
- How cost information can be used to manage public services 94
- Approaches to the classification of costs 96
- Costing systems and cost models in public services 106
- Traditional overhead costing and Activity Based Costing (ABC) 111
- Identifying and estimating costs in public services 118
- Difficulties and complexities of costing in modern public services 123
- Developing costing systems in public services 125

CHAPTER 8 Management accounting and operational/tactical decision making in public services 129

- Introduction 129
- Operational/tactical and strategic decision making: the distinction 129
- Operational/tactical decision making in public services 130
- Management accounting methods 134

CHAPTER 9 Management accounting and public service strategy 145

- Introduction 145
- Cost and income benchmarking 146
- Strategic capital investment appraisal 148
- Strategic cost improvement 155
- Programme/client group analysis and budgeting 158
- Strategic options evaluation 161
- Strategic financial forecasting 162
- Decision support models and strategic financial forecasting 167
- Pricing strategies in public services 169
- Strategic financial leadership 173

CHAPTER 10 Management accounting and management control in public services 175

- Introduction 175
- Key management tasks 175
- Nature and purpose of management control 176
- Operational/tactical management control 178
- Cash and working capital control and management 178
- Budgeting systems and budgetary control in public service management 180
- Strategic management control 193

CHAPTER 11 Management accounting and performance management/improvement in public services 195

- Introduction 195
- Nature of performance in public services 196
- Dimensions of performance 196
- Systems of performance management 203
- Performance information 204
- Improving performance in public services 205
- Management accounting contribution 209

CHAPTER 12 Management accounting and risk management in public services 213

- Introduction 213
- Distinction between risk and uncertainty 214
- Risk and risk management in public service organisations 215
- Risk management features in public services 218
- Importance of organisational resilience 221
- Management accounting in an environment of risk and uncertainty 223

CHAPTER 13 Contemporary aspects of management accounting in public services 231

Introduction 231

Modern costing developments 231

Inter-organisational cost management (IOCM) 235

Environmental management accounting (EMA) 237

Management accounting and modern operational processes 241

Technology and management accounting 248

Impact on management accounting 253

References 255

Index 259